RE: Criminal Action Nos. IN 96-09-1119 thru 1122 AND 1795 thru 1796

Dear Judge SILVERMAN,

(Copy)

On July 18, 1997, I was found guilty of the above Criminal Action Numbers, after having been tried by a jury. I am submitting this letter requesting to be sentenced on all charges immediately following the pre-sentence investigation.

My request is made in light of the fact that I want to finish my "Education" and would like to get started as soon as possible - but I am told that I must first be sentenced before I can be classified and put into the position to start my education. I was attending Delaware Community College and just accepted a job at Tri-State Beverages. I think it would be in my best interest if you check into this case thoroughly and consider all the facts when sentencing. Your utmost consideration in this matter would be very much appreciated. Thank You.

Very Truly Yours,
Nikerray K. Middlebrook

THE HONORABLE FRED S. SILVERMAN,

I am writing to you to inform the Court Caroline P. Ayres is no longer my attorney. Since I was sentenced on June 27, 1998, no appeal has been filed on my behalf. Ms Ayres did not file a timely appeal to the Supreme Court of the State of Delaware on account of a glaring mistake.

All I desire is for a chance to prove my innocence. I believe mistakes were made at trial that should be corrected. If I am denied a fair chance to appeal my conviction justice will truly be denied. In order to file my appeal I need the trial record.

While my incarceration is fortuitous, I have benefited substantially. I have been studying with the Jehovah witness and taking time myself to examine the entire Bible. I have taken certificate correspondent courses in Real Estate and Paralegal. My thought process has ^{logic and morals} definitely changed for the best as a whole for the best. This is a benefit to myself as well as others. I take time out to reason with others ^(S) and explain the (more) positive qualities a sincere life will lead. All I ask of

C.A. No. 9608015635

Dear Honorable Judge Silverman,

I am writing this letter as a follow-up to my Motion to Enter AN ORDER Directing the Preparation of Transcript, I would like to inquire about the status of this motion.

I would like to point out the fact, that, my appeal has been delayed for almost seventeen months. I was recently represented by privately retained Counsel, And, I was denied effective representation by missing the date for filing a direct appeal. I do not believe this Attorney has my best interest in mind, so I have set in motion dismissal of my privately retained Counsel. I ask in the interest of justice, I be appointed Counsel. I pray you grant me favor.

I am writing to you concerning my pro for Counsel; December 8, 1999.). I was visited by James Bayard, Jr. at the prison on January 14, 2000. He explained to me he was reappointed to my case. I am lost as to who is the attorney of record in my case. I asked Mr. Bayard during our conversation at the prison and in a letter dated January 16, 2000 to forward a copy of your order pertaining to the motions I filed. I like to point out as of this date I have never seen the documents. Please send me a copy or have the attorney of record forward the order to me. Thank You

RE : ORDER REappointing Public Defenders
Office

Dear Honorable FRED S. Silverman:

I am writing concerning the order reappointing the Public Defenders office. I had a meeting with James Bayard Jr. on January 14, 2000 concerning the matter of being assigned to represent me on my legal matter. I received a letter from Mr. Bayard after the meeting, but as of this date I have heard nothing from Mr. Bayard. Is he ^{Mr. Bayard} my Attorney?

As I have stated before I was unable to file an appeal on account of ms. Ayres (Attorney for Appeal) was negligent and/or failed to file timely direct appeal. I have never received the transcript. I am left with no way to challenge my conviction and sentence.

I pray to you that if I am represented by the Public Defenders office, please forward a copy of your order reappointing the Public Defenders office and have the attorney meet with me promptly. I truly believe [at my trial] ^{the correction of} [an] Error [nobody] made but hopefully it does not exist all the time during the course of a jury trial.

Dear Honorable Fred S. Silverman:

On January 11, 2000, The Public Defender (James Bayard, Jr.) was reappointed to represent defendant (Nikerryay Middlebrook). Unfortunately I have not heard from Mr. Bayard concerning my appeal. I have wrote numerous letters to Mr. Bayard.

I would appreciate your inquiring into the matter. I am deeply troubled by Mr. Bayard's non action in my case on account I previously had problems with his procrastination and filed a Motion To Dismiss Counsel on October 14, 1997. Please appoint me another attorney.

MOTION TO DISMISS

COMES Now, the Defendant, Nikerray Middlebrook, by and through his undersigned Counsel, and hereby request that this Honorable Court, pursuant to Superior Court Criminal Rule 48(b), Dismiss prosecution for unnecessary delay. There has been an unreasonable delay in violation of the first sentence of Criminal Rule 32(a), which warrants the sanction of dismissal.

FACTS

1. On September 5, 1991 I (Nikerray Middlebrook) was scheduled to be sentenced on conviction of

Attempted Murder, Lesser Included Offense of Assault 1 st two counts of Possession of Firearm During Commission of Felony and Possession of Firearm By Person Prohibited.

2. The Sentence Hearing was postponed by prosecutor, for the reason of delaying imposition of sentence until outcome of open charge.

3. The Sentence Hearing was continued numerous times because of this delay : November 7, 1997 -
Sentencing continue to hire private Attorney.

February 27, 1998 -

Sentencing Continue.

March 27, 1998 -

Sentencing Continue. Defense Attorney Not Available.

ARGUMENT

• The prosecution of Defendant Middlebrook must be Dismissed since Delay IN completing Prosecution Amounts To An UNCONSTITUTIONAL
Deprivation of Rights. THE DELAY WAS Purposeful.

4. IN order to successfully attack the "Without unreasonable delay" provision of Criminal Rule 32(a) and the Sixth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution,

Along with the fifth Amendment violation of DUE PROCESS, a defendant must prove that the delay was purposeful, Pollard V. UNITED STATES, 77 S.Ct. 481 (1957); Common Wealth V. Stewart, Pa. Super., 221 Pa. Super. 1, 289 A.2d 126 (1972). The Court weighs the particular circumstances of the delay. A unreasonable delay in sentencing is a violation of Due Process, also a delay in sentencing which is unreasonable violates Rule 32(a). The delay must not be purposeful or oppressive, Pollard V. US., Supra. Do Not Need

5. However, no valid reason for delay existed; it was exclusively for the convenience of the State. Deliberate State delay in the hope of obtaining an advantage over the accused is not unknown, IN Such circumstances the fair administration of Criminal justice is endanger; The Speedy Trial Clause then serves the public interest by penalizing official lawlessness. See, e.g. U.S. V. Provoo, 17 F.R.P. 183 (D.C.Md), aff'd percuriam, 350 U.S. 857, 76, S.Ct. 101, 100 LEd. 761 (1955) (The government to prosecute, not persecute, those whom it accuses of crime). Do We Need

6. The principles of procedural fairness required by the Due Process Clause of the fourteenth Amendment and fifth do not need

not by ~~accord~~ to the Fourteenth Amendment the 'Speedy Trial' provision of the Sixth Amendment. In Klopfer Vs. NC, 386 U.S. 213, 87, S.Ct. 988, 18 L.Ed. 2d. 1 (1967), The Court held that the Sixth Amendment standards governing Speedy trial are made obligatory on the States by the Fourteenth Amendment Due Process Clause. My Sentence was unconstitutionally delayed under the test of due process. See, e.g. Beasley V. Pitchess, 388, F. 2d. 706 (C.A. 2d. Cir. 1963). The delay must be deliberately caused by the Government, U.S. V. ENEKH, 383 U.S. 116, 86, S.Ct 773 15 L.Ed. 2d. 627 (1966). If the States' delay is deliberate, intended to harm the accused, it strikes at the fairness of our Criminal process, it however constitutes abuse of the Criminal process and lessens the deterrent value of any conviction obtained. Thus for the Clause to be fully realized, it must apply to any delay in the Criminal process that occurs after the State decides to prosecute and has sufficient evidence for arrest or indictment.

7. The Court can assume that the interval between judgement and sentencing is governed by the sixth Amendment Clause,) Welsh v. U.S., 348 F.2d. 885 (C.A. 6th Cir. 1965).

The Sixth Amendment U.S.C.A. provides in pertinent part: "In all Criminal prosecutions the accused shall be entitled to a speedy and public trial."

The right to a speed trial is necessarily relative.

It is consistent with delays and depends upon circumstances. ^{The 6th Amend.}

It secures rights to the defendant, It does not preclude the rights of public justice,

Beaveras v. Haubert, 198 U.S. At 87, 25 S.Ct. at 576. The essential ingredient ^{of} ^{the 6th Amend.} is "Orderly expedition and not mere speed."

Smith v. U.S., 360 U.S. 1, 10, 79, S.Ct. 991, 997, 3 L.Ed.

2d 1041 (1969). In the judging reasonableness of a particular delay (1) The source of delay; (2) The reasons for it; (3) and whether the delay prejudiced interest protected by the Speedy Trial Clause.

9. On September 5, 1997 the sentencing delay cannot be held as a waiver of my rights ^{Def.} ^{because} ^{ON ACCC} of Attorneys' failure to object when fundamental rights are at stake.

wavier is defined as an intentional relinquishment or abandonment of a known right or privilege". The Courts should indulge every reasonable presumption against "unwise" Aetna Ins. Co.

V. Kennedy to use Bagash, 301 U.S. 389, 393, 87 S.Ct. 805, 813, 81, L.Ed. 1177 (1937) and the should not "presume agreement or consent in the loss of fundamentals rights". OHIO BELL Tel. Co.

V. Public Utilities Comm, 301, U.S. 292, 305, 57, S.Ct.

724, 731, 81, L.Ed. 1093 (1937). The rights to a Speedy trial is as fundamental as one of the rights secured by the Sixth Amendment.

Klopfer, Supra, 386 U.S. at 223, 87 S.Ct. et 993.

It is the duty of the prosecutor, not only to prosecute those charged with a crime but also to observe the constitutional mandate guaranteeing a Speedy trial. If the prosecutor fails to do so, the defendant cannot be held to have waived his constitutional right to a speedy trial, U.S. v. Dillon 183 F. Supp. 541, 543, (1960) Thus, if the delay of always rest with responsibility for it will authority. Marshal v. U.S. 199 U.S. App. D.C. 83, 337 F.2d. 119 (1964).

Case 1:05-cv-00827-SLR Document 19 Filed 07/24/2006 Page 31 of 89

10. In this case at bar in the Court has caused defendant prejudice delay, the state has delayed in clear bad faith. There is no way of proving the prejudice to defendant which occurs outside the courtroom ***

(2) The severing of family and social ties; (3) And the personal "anxiety". The right to a speedy trial, 57, Col. L. REV. 864. It seems inherent in prosecutorial

Wade 388 U.S. 218, 227, 87 S. Ct., 1926, 1932 18 L. Ed. 2d. (1967), to the interest protected by the Speedy Trial Clause. It is likely that generalized standards would have to be developed to indicate when during the course of delay there arises a probability of "substantial prejudice". Once however delay exceeds that point, prejudice would cease to be an issue. The defendant thus has made out a prima facile case of denial of Speedy Trial, showing that the prosecution was delayed beyond the point at which a probability of prejudice arose and that the alleging defendant was not responsible for the delay and by alleging the State might have reasonably have avoided the delay. Therefore the showing of prejudice is not required when a criminal defendant is asserting a constitutional right under the Sixth Amendment, U.S. v. Lustman, 258, F.2d 475, 477, 478 (C.A. 2d Cir. 1958).

The Def.

II. Mr. Middlebrook has clearly shown a deliberate attempt by the state to use delay to harm the defendant or state delay that is purposeful is unjustifiable. (Pollard v. U.S., Supra 352 U.S. at 361, 77 S. Ct. at 485. The same may be true of any state delay that is unnecessary, whether intentional or negligent in origin. It has been held that negligent delay violates the Speedy Trial Clause, Hanrahan v. U.S. 121 U.S. App. D.C. 134, 139, 348, F.2d 363, 358 (1965). This is a deliberate misuse of the criminal process by public officials. The crucial question may be whether the delay might reasonably have been avoided — whether it was unnecessary, in the other hand, the essential importance of the reason for the delay, and on the other hand the length of delay and its potential for prejudice

Almost ANY delay could be reasonably avoided.
Similarly, lengthy delay, even in the interest of realizing an important objective, would be suspect.

WHEREFORE, DEFENDANT, Nikerry Middlebrook
respectfully request that this Honorable Court dismiss Prosecution in violation of Defendant's Middlebrook rights to a Speedy trial and DUE Process of Law under State and Federal Constitution.

5 As noted.

6 MR. WALLACE: Your honor, if I could turn
 7 to item twelve, Mr. Nikerry Middlebrook.

8 Mr. Surles and Miss Ayres.

9 MS. AYRES: Good afternoon, your honor.

10 While I was not the trial attorney in this 11 case, Mr. Middlebrook has asked me to say a few words
 12 on his behalf to show that there are some positive 13 aspects to him.

14 He and I both realize he's facing very 15 substantial time because of the seriousness of the 16 charges, including the attempted murder charge.
 17 However, we ask the court to note that Mr. Middlebrook
 18 still maintains his innocence.

19 He, in fact, has also, for technical 20 reasons, has or I understand today did not file a 21 motion to dismiss, but he does wish the court to 22 consider a motion to dismiss. And ethically I feel 23 like I have to present a written motion that he signed

1 course until again he was caught in what he believes
 2 to be the wrong place at the wrong time and what he 3 believes he's also being framed for the situation at 4 hand.

5 He -- while I was not at the trial, he has
 6 asked me to ask the court to consider inconsistencies
 7 that were made at trial by the witnesses. The one 8 witness saying at one point that he did not see Mr.
 9 Middlebrook's entire face and at another point I think 10 saying that she did. We ask that the court look at 11 all these factors and look at the fact that he did 12 have an alibi witness who took the stand and said that 13 Mr. Middlebrook was not in the area at the time of the 14 crime.

15 While I know your honor has given your 16 blessing for the verdicts in this case, Mr.
 17 Middlebrook feels that this has to be restated because 18 he feels that he was not fairly represented by his 19 attorney below. And he wishes to assert that his 20 Sixth Amendment right was violated in the trial
 21 process as well as the scheduling of the sentencing at 22 hand.

23 And he wishes to make this again, not in

1 any disrespect to the court, but for matters of record
 2 and the appeal purposes.

3 What is Mr. Middlebrook doing now?

4 He is considered a model prisoner. He's 5 what they call a tier man at Gander Hill. He is a 6 significant help with the food service program. Any 7 course that's available, he takes it. He, in fact,
 8 has taken most of the correspondence, paralegal type
 9 courses at the prison. He's completing them right
 10 now.

11 Also, your honor, I have numerous letters
 12 that I've also showed opposing counsel that I wish to 13 present to the court at this time.

14 THE COURT: Thank you.

15 MS. AYRES: These letters are from people
 16 that have known Mr. Middlebrook before, after and 17 during the time of the alleged troubles that have 18 brought him here today. You'll see statements from 19 people like Mr. Sullivan, Miss Daniels, that say that, 20 you know, they were unaware that he had any type of 21 temper problem. That, as far as they're concerned,
 22 that he was always a good mannered person, respectful
 23 to his elders and just overall a hard worker,

1 And also from the letters that people that
 2 have known him for longer than this court has known
 3 him stating what positive things there are about Mr.
 4 Middlebrook.

5 And keeping that in mind, your honor, I
 6 know the court is very busy at this point and I don't 7 know there's limitations on the amount of 8 witnesses, but I do have two in addition to Mr.
 9 Middlebrook and I don't know how the court wishes to 10 proceed.

11 THE COURT: The court has a standard
 12 approach to sentencing. We will hear from the next 13 of kin to a victim or the victim in certain 14 sentencing. We have a standard practice that we do
 15 not hear from other people during sentencing hearings
 16 besides counsel, and I'm going to stand by that 17 standard practice.

18 MS. AYRES: I understand, your honor, and 19 for the record I do take exception to it because we do 20 have people here to attest to the positive nature of 21 Mr. Middlebrook. With this in mind --

22 THE COURT: Let me interrupt you for a
 23 moment so that we can make the record complete.

1 intelligent person.

2 While -- if the court will indulge me
 3 further, we do have two people here besides Mr.
 4 Middlebrook that wish to speak, his grandmother, Mabel 5 Lee, who was a big help in raising him, as well as 6 another person, I believe, who's here, Mr. Stockman,
 7 who wishes to speak as well. And they will tell you
 8 and reiterate what are in the letters that your honor
 9 is reviewing right now.

10 As far as his record -- and this is not the 11 first time he's been in trouble. He has had an 12 assault charge before. He has had a charge of 13 receiving stolen goods, those types of charges.
 14 However, he was trying to turn his life around, your 15 honor, by going to school, being an accountant.

16 And he asks the court to still have mercy
 17 on him.

18 While I understand that your honor can 19 sentence him up to life imprisonment for the attempted 20 murder charge, that there are positive things and that 21 he does have goals in life. He has shown attempts to 22 reach those goals by entering the programs at the 23 prison, having previously gone to college.

1 Has anyone on behalf of the court done
 2 anything to preclude those people from making their 3 feelings known through written submissions to the 4 court?

5 MS. AYRES: None, other than I guess my
 6 representation that I would try to get them to speak
 7 today and that may be why -- one of reasons why it's 8 not in writing.

9 THE COURT: Very well. If they would like
 10 to submit something after sentencing, and there is a 11 basis in the things they submit to reconsider 12 sentencing, then I certainly will do that. But 13 meanwhile, the court will not depart from its standard
 14 practice of not hearing live witnesses at sentencing 15 hearings.

16 MS. AYRES: Thank you, your honor.

17 At this point then if the court would like
 18 to hear from Mr. Middlebrook --

19 THE COURT: That's fine. Thank you.

20 MR. MIDDLEBROOK: Your honor, I stand here
 21 before you today to address the court and speak with 22 no disrespect.

23 I'm an innocent man, and I did not commit

1 the crime. 2 For almost two years I've lived my life in 3 mortal agony. And no one could understand the anguish 4 of disparity that I've been caused by the system we 5 rely on which is fallible. 6 I was given a public defender, Mr. James 7 Bayard, whose incompetency and his representation of 8 me was invariably egregious. My total trial was a 9 farce. I do not see how the court could consider this 10 a fair trial. 11 I'm entitled to a trial with my interests 12 vigorously and consistency advocated by an able 13 lawyer. I'm not a lawyer. And because Mr. Bayard 14 owed me a duty, I did not have a fair chance to -- 15 against my adversary. 16 I've been taken away from my family. This 17 has caused them so much pain and suffering. 18 My grandmother's a woman who helped raise 19 me, along with my mother. And Mr. Surles is well aware of both 11 victims, but still pursued the matter. 12 Mr. Bayard agreed to continue my sentence 13 on September 5th, 1996, along with Mr. Surles, which 14 led to a nine month delay. And I know that it seems 15 by the guidelines I'm supposed to get mandatory time, 16 your honor, and I know that you already had perceived 17 knowledge about which sentence might have been given, 18 but I -- I'm walking with God on this one, and he's 19 working my legal case and I -- God has given me the 20 strength to endure the bondage that will be placed on 21 me today. The time can 8 have a very detrimental impact on the individual. 9 I've lost my job. I have disrupted my family life 10 while I sit in jail in idleness. State v. Nikerry K. Middlebrook

1 years, but there's nothing that calls for only
2 twenty-one years about that man.

3 The state doesn't ask for a number, but 4 notes that if he had no priors, never stabbed anyone
5 before, if he didn't have a pending assault second,
6 and pending attempted murder, twenty-one years would 7 be a sentence. Based on that the state thinks it has 8 to be more than twenty-one years.

9 THE COURT: Let me stop you for a moment so
10 that I'm clear on this.

11 Had defendant been sentenced earlier, the 12 one benefit that he might have received, if you want 13 to call it a benefit, is that his appeal could have 14 been filed sooner. The delay, if you will, in 15 sentencing has not meant that the defendant has served 16 one extra day in prison.

17 Is that correct, Mr. Surles?

18 MR. SURLES: Correct.

19 THE COURT: And, in fact, even if the court
20 had dismissed these charges at any time between the 21 verdict and today, my understanding is that he would 22 have been held in custody in connection with another 23 charge that is pending. Is that correct?

1 finding with respect to the other charges. I'm just 2 simply saying that as long as they're out there,
3 they're an impediment to your being released. And I'm 4 not going to get into why those cases have not gone to 5 trial so far.

6 Anyway, I think the best thing to do with 7 respect to the motion that's filed contesting the 8 delay between the trial and sentencing is to dispose 9 of it now so that it does not stand in the way of the 10 appeal.

11 As much as I'm not partial to dealing with 12 motion practice at sentencing, I think this motion is 13 sufficiently lacking in merit that I can do it without 14 being unfair.

15 I've already indicated facts that militate
16 against the motion, but the idea that the court is 17 going to dismiss charges – an attempted murder first 18 degree charge and assault first degree charge, 19 firearms charge, and/or related offenses because the 20 verdict came back in July and sentencing is now the 21 following June is incorrect. There is no prejudice.
22 There's no evidence other than conclusions, which are 23 not evidence, that the state has maneuvered

1 MR. SURLES: That is correct.

2 MR. MIDDLEBROOK: Your honor, may I speak
3 on the other charges?

4 This case is twenty-one months old and it's 5 been set for trial numerous times, your honor.

6 THE COURT: Well, I appreciate what you're 7 saying. I think you did not understand, or at least
8 you are not appreciating the point that's being made 9 about that.

10 Those charges could be entirely bogus, the 11 state could be conspiring in the most unlawful way to 12 pursue those charges against you or any other bad 13 thing you want to say about those other charges, but 14 the court – court's point is that those charges are 15 pending and you're being held on those charges. So
16 even if this case fell apart and even if those charges
17 are bogus, you would still be held in prison. And so 18 you've not served any time waiting for sentencing in 19 this case because of the delay that has been between 20 the time of the jury's verdict and the sentencing.
21 And that's the factual issue that I was trying to get 22 at.

23 Of course, I'm not accepting or making any

1 improperly.

2 One of the delays, at least in this case,
3 was occasioned by a request by defense counsel for 4 delay. I think other delays were occasioned in part
5 because of getting defense counsel beyond trial
6 counsel to handle sentencing. So I think that the 7 delay is not entirely attributable to anyone, at least 8 in part, beside the defendant.

9 And finally, the court observes, but only 10 in passing, that defendant's represented by counsel.
11 So this motion was out of order in the first place,
12 but I have addressed it substantively anyway in order
13 to get beyond that.

14 Now, as to sentencing, on IN ninety-six
15 dash oh nine dash one one one nine, it's the sentence
16 of the court that effective September 11, 1996, 17 defendant is to pay the costs of prosecution, be 18 imprisoned for twenty-five years at level five. First 19 fifteen years are minimum under the statute.

20 As to IN ninety-six dash oh nine dash one
21 one two zero, it is the sentence of the court,
22 consecutive to the prior sentence, you be imprisoned
23 for two years at level five.

Page 17

1 As to IN ninety-six dash oh nine dash one
2 one two one, it's the sentence of the court,
3 consecutive to the prior sentence, you be imprisoned
4 for five years at level five.

5 IN ninety-six dash oh nine dash one one two 6 two, it's the sentence of the court, consecutive to 7 the prior sentence, you be imprisoned for five years
8 at level five.

9 IN ninety-six dash oh nine dash one seven
10 nine five, it's the sentence of the court that you, 11 consecutive to the prior sentence, be imprisoned for 12 one year at level five suspended for one year at level
13 two probation.

ORDER

At this point, it is obvious that considerable confusion surrounds Defendant's original sentencing and the events immediately following it. In short, Defendant, in effect, had two attorneys, one court-appointed and one privately retained. It is unclear as to which attorney was responsible for filing Defendant's appeal.

In order to clear up the confusion and to protect Defendant's rights, the sentence originally imposed on June 12, 1998 is reimposed, in its entirety, as of today. The public defender is reappointed to represent Defendant for all purposes, including the timely filing of an appeal from Defendant's conviction and the reimposed sentence.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Dear Mrs. Ayres,

I am writing you once again to ask about your thoughts on what I have read in this case, "State v. Cunningham, Del. Super., 405 A.2d 706." The court dismissed prosecution under Criminal Rule 48(b) because of unnecessary delay. Mrs. Ayres the "without unnecessary delay" provision of Criminal Rule 32(a) means, when the Court convicts a person of a crime the determination by the Court to punish that convicted person, must occur to establish with avoidance of needless delay. (The significant factor of my delay is that there was no valid reason for the Court to delay sentencing on September 5, 1997 until I was taken to trial on an unrelated offense.) Also Criminal Rule 32(a) states, "When there is a factor important to the sentencing determination that is not capable of being resolved, postpone the imposition of sentence for a reasonable time until the factor is capable of being resolved." Now the factor to be resolved is whether the Court in postponing the sentencing until I was taken to trial on an unrelated offense violated my Due Process Rights. In scope of the above the Court has denied me the right to a fast and speedy trial as well as my right to a timely Appeal. The most important fact is that the period of time for which something is delayed must in no manner be resolutely aiming at a specific goal, purposeful.

Re: State v. Middlebrook

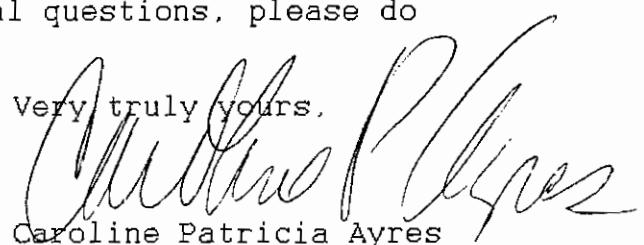

Dear Mr. Middlebrook:

This is to inform you that your renewed Motion for a New Trial has been denied. For whatever reason, I never received a copy of this decision in the mail, and had to ask the Court for a copy. Consequently, the thirty day time for a normal appeal time has run. Therefore, in order to pursue all of your appeal rights, despite the late receipt of this decision, we must do so through a postconviction motion. (See attached case law) I have placed an order for your transcript, so that we can now pursue all of the issues we deem appropriate.

I have made Judge Siverman's Office aware that I did not receive a copy of his Order until recently, and was told that I should state these facts in a cover letter, with a copy of the Postconviction Motion.

If you have any additional questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Very truly yours,

I believe you have a duty to act in my best interest and my total demand as to the position of handling my case.

I would appreciate a prompt response in order that we might proceed without delay.

RE: Rule 61 motion

Date: 5/24/00

Dear Mr. Bayard:

I am deeply troubled by the fact no Rule 61 motion has been filed, you were reappointed by Honorable Fred S. Silverman on January 11, 2000 to handle the situation. Also I expressed to you at our meeting on January 14, 2000 I want us to review all documents before being filed to the court. I desire for a filing deadline in the matter [Filing of Rule 61 motion].

I would like to share some information I have come across lately, I read an article in the News Journal, [Senate approves DNA evidence bill S.S. 1 for S.B. 329 (Winslow)]. The article caught my attention on the fact convicted criminals who believe DNA Evidence could exonerate them would have 3 years from time the final judgement is entered to ask Court to order DNA Test. I feel we need to discuss this matter between ourselves and consider making the request to the Court.

Also I have found cases which involved the matter where counsel failed to docket an appeal, sentence was vacated and the individual was resentenced. [Bobby Rice v. State and Brown v. State, Del Sup., No. 350, 1983 Herrmann, C.J. (Oct. 23, 1987) (order)] I seriously think you should review each case

I expect a meeting with you at Gander Hill soon and a filing of the Rule 61 motion concerning the issues. What is the issue concerning the transcript.

1. As an indigent, the Defendant, is entitled, at Public expense, to all or such portions of the transcript of trial as may be necessary for this appeal. Griffis v. Williams, 381 U.S. 12, 16 S.C.T. 585.

2. The right, for Defendant, to hear all or such portions of the transcript of trial, at Public expense, is not lost by an indigent Defendant who has parents financially able to pay the expense of appeal. STATE V. ALLEN. Circuit Court, 241 Ind. 427, 174 N.E.2d 411 (1961).

18. The reasons for granting the Writ are Honorable [Norman A. Barron] Fred S. Silverman improperly exercised jurisdiction denying order, Motion for Transcript(s) when petitioner has a constitutional right to file an appeal. Under United States Constitution and Delaware Constitution which specifically grants petitioner who is convicted of a felony and sentenced to imprisonment over a year a right to appeal. Petitioner has no device to challenge criminal conviction due to Courts failure to produce transcripts. Petitioner's attorney failure to file timely direct appeal and/or file petitioner's requested appeal constitutes ineffective assistance of counsel and prejudice is assumed and requires vacating judgement of conviction and sentence. Petitioner has no other available remedy and the legal right sought to be enforced is clearly established and the Court is in violation of Petitioners liberty guaranteed by the Due Process Clause of the Constitution. See United States Constitution Sixth and Fourteenth Constitutional Amendment(s), Delaware Constitution Article 1 Section 7.

This 13th day of September 2000, it appears to the Court that:

1. The appellant, Nikerray Middlebrook, seeks to appeal his Superior Court convictions of attempted murder first degree, assault first degree, two counts of possession of a firearm during a commission of a felony, and possession of a deadly weapon by a person prohibited. Prior to the time for the filing of the appellant's opening brief, the appellant has requested that his counsel be permitted to withdraw and that he be permitted to pursue his appeal pro se.

- 1) Whether the appellant has retained private counsel to represent him on appeal. If so, the Court's inquiry can end. If not, the Court must determine if the appellant is an indigent person.
- 2) If the appellant is indigent, a determination must be made as to whether he understands his right to court-appointed counsel to assist him on appeal by an inquiry into the appellant's educational background and his familiarity, if any, with the criminal justice system, including the trial process. If the appellant is indigent, he should understand that he must either accept representation on appeal by his present court-appointed counsel or proceed pro se.
- 3) If the appellant elects to proceed pro se, an inquiry should be made into his decision to waive his right to retain private counsel or, if he is indigent, his decision to waive the assistance of his court-appointed trial counsel, including his explanation for such a decision. This should include the following inquiries:
 - a) Whether the appellant has consulted with any other person, including any other attorney, in the making of his decision to waive his right to counsel. The appellant may, but he is not required to, identify such persons.

B. This hearing should take place on notice to the State, and the trial judge should promptly thereafter make findings of fact and conclusions of law and transmit the same to this Court.

FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Upon Remand in Response to Appellant's
Request to Appear Pro Se on Appeal

In accordance with the Supreme Court of Delaware's September 13, 2000 Order,¹ this Court conducted a hearing, on the record, on November 30, 2000 for the limited purpose of making findings of fact and conclusions of law with respect to Appellant's request to pursue his appeal pro se. Pursuant to the remand, the Court made all of the inquiries and provided more information than is called for cautioned him against attempting to "fend off" the State's cross-appeal on his own.

¹ Nikerray Middlebrook v. State, Del. Supr., Nos. 424/427, 2000, Holland, J. (Sept. 13, 2000) (ORDER).

Nevertheless, Appellant continued to insist on representing himself.

In conclusion, the Court remains convinced that Appellant is making a mistake. Nevertheless, based on the Watson v. State colloquy and the Court's further inquiries, the Court concludes that under the prevailing legal standards, Appellant's decision to proceed pro se is knowing, voluntary and intelligent.
